“The first peace, which is the most important, is that which comes within the souls of people when they realize their relationship, their oneness, with the universe and all its powers...”

Black Elk - Oglala Sioux Native American

You are invited to help launch a People's movement, the Disciplines of Peace here in the UK. This is a global, multicultural movement, and is a movement of significance so you can bring your presence to this event knowing that it will make a difference.

Learn what peace is, it's relevance to our 21st century lives and how we may attain it.
